COLLATED PERIODICALS IN SETS

ARE SUPPLIED ONLY BY

The Boston Book Company.

There is a good reason why every library should buy periodical sets of us. No one in the UNITED STATES except ourselves will collate. As to ENGLAND'S dealers, we quote a post card received recently in response to our claim for a title-page that was missing in a set sold us.

"In reply to yours re Magazine of Art, we never collate magazines in London, as they are always sold not (italics are theirs) subject to collation. Sorry we have not the missing title-page and index."

From the CONTINENT one of the largest German dealers writes us: —

"We collate only out-of-print portions of sets. We could not afford to collate the rest, as any mistakes found can be at once supplied thro' the publishers."

The Boston Book Company collates every volume of sets sold and also guarantees them complete. Our prices are the same as for uncollated sets elsewhere, in similar condition.

We sell sets, also odd volumes, but not odd numbers except as a favor to our regular customers. Write us for what you want.

Bulletin of Bibliography

Vol. 4 OCTOBER, 1904. No. 1

This Bulletin is published, primarily, as a means of communication between The Boston Book Company and its customers. A constant endeavor will be made, however, to include in each issue enough original matter of sufficient value to induce librarians to preserve and bind up the numbers. Each volume will be provided with a title-page and an index.

No subscription price will be put upon the journal, and numbers will not be sold. It will be sent to a selected list of libraries, customers or likely to become customers of The Boston Book Company. The circulation of The Bulletin will be increased in proportion to the interest shown in it, and in the special work of the Library Department of The Boston Book Company. Correspondence is solicited, and should be addressed,

The Boston Book Company,
83-91 Francis St., Back Bay, Boston, Mass.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

We publish in this issue of the BULLETIN OF BIBLIOGRAPHY the first part of what will prove one of the most useful bibliographies we have ever printed — the bibliography of holidays. In these days when public libraries do so much to awaken interest in all anniversaries, this list cannot fail to be of immediate use everywhere. Another installment of "Poole" Errata will enable librarians to correct many more false entries in that indispensable publication. Send us any errors you discover and we will incorporate them in the next list.

"The International Studio will henceforth fasten its title and index in the last number of each volume." We are most happy to commend this up-to-date action on the part of Mr. John Lane to all, especially other publishers of periodicals. "So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

AMERICAN JOURNAL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE.

Results of Arbitration under the Coal Strike Commission, by Carroll D. Wright.

Content in Work, Pres. C. W. Eliot.

Tendency of Manufacturing toward Individualism rather than Collectivism, by Edward Atkinson.

HOLIDAYS.

A Bibliography of Articles Relating to Holidays.

PART I.

BY ROBERT MORRILL McCURDY.

(B. L. S. N. Y. State Library School, 1903.)

This selected list of authorities aims to include the most valuable material on the legal holidays and festival days of the year; a few other days about which questions are frequently asked have been introduced for the sake of completeness. General arrangement is by the calendar, and not alphabetically. The lists have been made up from the existing collection in the New York state library, and with the needs of its reference department particularly in mind; but books not in the library, if seemingly valuable, have been occasionally inserted. Owing to the mass of material, much of which is of inferior quality, the compiler has been compelled to exercise his judgment in the inclusion of various kinds of articles. Periodical references, for example, have been utilized in some divisions, omitted in others; the decision in every case depending on the value of the material and the need of keeping the lists from undue expansion. As to the method of procedure, the references have been usually selected in the main from study and comparison of the lists in library bulletins, quoted at the beginning of each section, supplemented, when it seemed desirable, by original search.

General Works.

Beard, Lina, & Beard, Adelia B. The American girl's handy book. 572 p. Il. O. N. Y., 1898. Scribner, $2.
Book contains practical suggestions for games appropriate to various holidays.

Morse, J: Torrey. Abraham Lincoln. 2 v. Il. Map. D. Bost., 1893. (American statesman.) Houghton, $2.50.
The best life of Lincoln. Condensed but quite clear; very careful of facts and inviting confidence.

Nicolay, J: G: & Hay, J: Abraham Lincoln, a history. 10 v. Il. Maps. O. N. Y., 1890. Century, $20.
As a biography the work leaves little to be desired. It is exceedingly well written, materials were sought for with patience, examined with care, and woven into the story with skill.

Raymond, Henry Jarvis. Life and public services of . . . Lincoln . . . with his state papers . . . added anecdotes and personal reminiscences of Pres. Lincoln, by F. B. Carpenter. 808 p. Il. O. N. Y., 1865. Derby & Miller, $1.50.
At the time it was published it was one of the best condensed reviews of the public administration of Pres. Lincoln.

Sermons preached in Boston on the death of Lincoln, together with the funeral services in the East room of the executive mansion at Washington. 379 p. D. Bost., 1865. J. E. Tilton.

Stoddard, W: Osborn. Abraham Lincoln; the true story of a great life . . . 508 p. Il. O. N. Y., 1885. J. B. Fords, $2.50.

Tarbell, Ida Minerva. The life of . . . Lincoln, drawn from original sources and cont. many speeches, letters and telegrams hitherto unpublished. 2 v. Il. O. N. Y., 1900. McClure, $5.
One of the best of the anecdotal lives of Lincoln. The work is well done in its kind, is free from sensationalism, is sympathetic with the noble elements of the character.

Biography, Juvenile.

Bolton, Sarah Knowles. Abraham Lincoln. (See her Lives of poor boys who became famous. [1885.] P. 342-67.)

Brooks, Noah. Abraham Lincoln, a biography for young people. 489 p. Il. D. N. Y., 1888. Boys and girls' lib. of American biography, v. 3.) Putnam, $1.75.

—— —— Abaham Lincoln and the downfall of American slavery. 496 p. Il. D. N. Y., 1894. (Heroes of the nations.) Putnam, $1.50.
These two books are practically the same.
Good specimens of the so-called popular style of history, treating its subject in a heroic light rather than as a man. Especially full on the legends of the early life of Lincoln in all its picturesqeness.

Brooks, Elbridge Streeter. True story of Abraham Lincoln, the American, told for boys and girls. 239 p. Il. Sq. O. Bost. [1896.] Lothrop, $1.50.

Butterworth, Hezekiah. In the boyhood of Lincoln; a tale of the Tunker schoolmaster and the times of Black Hawk. 274 p. Il. D. N. Y., 1892. Appleton, $1.50.

Coffin, C: Carleton. Abraham Lincoln. 556 p. Il. O. N. Y., 1893. Harper, $3.
Strong points are its readableness, its happy selection of matter likely to be of general interest, and the numerous illustrations.

Schurz, Carl. Abraham Lincoln, an essay. 120 p. Il. D. Bost., 1891. Houghton, $1.

Originally published in Atlantic monthly. 67:721.

One of the most noteworthy essays on a biographical subject to be found in the English language. He comprehends the man, appreciates the real meaning of his work and tells in a simple but graphic way the wonderful story of his life.

—— —— Abraham Lincoln, an essay; the Gettysburg speech and other papers, by Abraham Lincoln; together with testimonies by Emerson, Whittier, Holmes and Lowell . . . 189 p. Il. D. Bost., [1871-99.] (Riverside lit. ser. No. 133 and 32.) Houghton, 40 cents.

An excellent little book to own; contains in compact form works of great importance for the study of Lincoln's career. Suggestions for a sketch of Lincoln's life, and programmes for observing the day in the schools, are given, p. 95-98.

Herndon, W: H: & Weik, J: W: Abraham Lincoln: the true story of a great life, with an introduction by Horace White. 2 v. Il. D. N. Y., 1892. Appleton, $3.

The method on which it is written may be compared to that of an artist undertaking to paint a life-size portrait by using a magnifying glass and camel's hair brush. The narrative continually loses itself in the multitude of its details, the greater proportion of which are trivial or commonplace.

Lamon, Ward Hill. Recollections of . . . Lincoln, 1847-1865; ed. by Dorothy Lamon. 292 p. Il. D. Chic., 1895. McClurg, $1.50.

A miscellaneous collection of alleged anecdotes, some of which are true and some decidedly untrue, notably the one about the Gettysburg address.

McClure, Alexander Kelly. Abraham Lincoln and men of war times: some personal recollections of war and politics during the Lincoln administration; with introduction by A. C. Lambdin. Ed. 2. 462 p. Il. O. Phil., 1892. J. W. Keeler, $2.

NOTE.— Also issued as a separate. Two species are described, both of which were collected by Goode, from the Bermudas. The first, "a specimen which was obtained at Bermuda, by Mr. G. Brown Goode, now belongs to the museum of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn. Mr. Goode informs me that it was picked up on the north shore of the island, in December, 1876, and that it was regarded by the inhabitants as a novelty or great rarity, and was noticed as such in the local newspapers," p. 321 [111]. The specimen above referred to is here named Sthenoteuthis pteropus Verrill, and is described on p. 317-321 [107-111], and is figured in Plates 7, fig. 2, 2a and 17, figs. 3-9. The second species Sepioteuthis sepioides D'Orb., a specimen of which was also collected by Goode, is described on p. 373-375 [163-165], but is unfigured. The paging in brackets refers to that of the separate.

NOTE.— "The first complete account of the ichthyology of that portion of the world. These were principally obtained by Mr. Goode during a visit to the islands in the months of February and March, and are notes on the character of the species, containing many important facts in regard to their natural history. 75 species in all were actually observed, and the existence of others determined, but not established by specimens. A chief value of the paper is in the description of the colours of the fish while living, and notes on their size and hints on their popular names, their capture and economical value."—Nature, vol. 14 (no. 353, July 20, 1876), p. 261. "The marine fauna is much more tropical in character than the land fauna and flora, the majority of the fishes being those of the West Indian region. 4 marine species and 1 inhabiting brackish water are at present known to be peculiar to the group. They were described by Goode, Günther and Matthew Jones in 1874."— Zoological Record, vol. 13 (1876), Pisces, p. 6.

"This is a model record of field observations and is one of the best of local catalogues. Dr. Goode retained his interest in this outpost of the great West Indian fauna, and from time to time recorded the various additions made to his first Bermudan catalogue."— S. P. GOODE, George Brown, and BEAN, Tarleton H. On a New Serranoid Fish, Epinephalus Drummond-Hayi, from the Bermudas and Florida. Vol. 1 (1879), p. 173-175.

NOTE.— This volume is also Part First of Vol. 19 of the Miscellaneous Collections of the SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION (1880). "The National Museum possesses two specimens of a Serranoid Fish, apparently undescribed, for which we propose the name Epinephalus Drummond-Hayi, dedicating the species to Colonel H. M. Drummond Hay, C. M. Z. S., of Seggieden, Perth, Scotland, formerly of the British Army, by whom the species was first discovered at the Bermudas in 1851.

The species is easily recognized from its numerous, small, star-like white spots on a dark ground, a type of coloration not found in any other representative of this family hitherto described. A collection of water-color drawings, lent to the Smithsonian Institution by Colonel Drummond Hay, contains an excellent sketch of one of these fishes, which was taken by him on the outer reef of the Bermudas in 1851. This specimen weighed fifty-two and one-half pounds. The drawing is on the scale of one-fifth. . . . We have seen other specimens of this series in the New York Aquarium, which were said to have been brought from the Bermudas. At Pensacola this fish is called the Hind; at the Bermudas, it is the 'John Paw.'"— See also HURDIS' Rough Notes, p. 354.

GOODE, George Brown. On Two Fishes from the Bermudas mistakenly described as New by Dr. Günther. Vol. 1 (1879), p. 462-463.

NOTE.— The two fishes here described are the Belone Jonesii Goode and Günther; and the Gerres Jonesii Günther, Diapterus Lefroyi Goode (1874), Eucinostomus Lefroyi Goode (1876), or E. productus Poey (1875-76).
